Kitsap County Shoreline Master Program Update
Shoreline Master Program Task Force
January 6, 2011
Preparation and Discussion Guide

At this meeting we will dive into the process of how environment designations are determined, given the requirements in the WAC guidelines. The DCD team has developed three “case studies” for your participation. Working in three small groups, you will review all relevant features associated with the selected areas of the shoreline. DCD and Ecology have prepared information packets to help guide the exercise. Task Force case study groups will reference that information plus a checklist to develop draft Shoreline Environment Designations.

Each group will have one case study, and will be assisted by a DCD staff member to work through the environment designations process. Your work is not binding at this meeting, but the exercise is meant to inform the Task Force of the issues that local governments must process to update shoreline environment designations in Kitsap County.

This meeting will set the stage for our continued work in 2011; over the next six months the Task Force will make numerous recommendations to DCD on both the environment designations and the various elements associated with each designation.

Also on the agenda: Patty Charnas will provide a summary of the Kitsap Planning Commission public hearing on the Shoreline Inventory and Characterization, as well as an overview of the next steps in the process of officially adopting that document.

Public Comment
